INDUSTRIAL WINSTON.

SOME STARTLING FACTS ABOUT THIS LIVE TOWN.

Actual Figures Taken From the Records.—The Town Has No Superior in all the Best Elements That Go to Make a Progressive City.

WINSTON, N. C., April 1st.—Of all that has been said about the growing towns in North Carolina, none, perhaps, can show a better array of facts or greater material or industrial prosperity than this, the most progressive town in the State.

Forsyth county, of which Winston is the county seat, as will be seen from the special report made to the Government at Washington, has fewer mortgages on farms, no county debt whatever, farmers have more money in the bank and in a better condition than any other county in the State.

Winston-Salem, considered as one in interest and population, has fifteen thousand of the most thrifty people in the South. To show the rating of this amount of population, Bradstreet rates them at five million dollars.

To give an accurate and detailed account of all the varied interests of the places, cannot be done in one letter. We give below only those that strike us first, leaving the others for the future.

The town has excellent railroad facilities, with reasonable prospects for other roads at an early day. The Northwestern North Carolina, a branch of the Richmond & Danville, extending from Greensboro here; the Wakeboro extension, also a branch of the Richmond & Danville; Roanoke and Southern, in construction from Roanoke, Va., to Winston, thence south; trains now running between Winston and Walnut Cove, a town on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad.

In 1888 the entire tonnage of these roads amounted to 19,000,000 pounds. In 1889 the increase was exactly twenty per cent.

The banking capital of the town amounts to four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as follows: Wachovia National Bank, $150,000; First National Bank, $80,000; People's National Bank, $150,000; Forsyth Savings Bank, $50,000; the aggregate surplus amounting to $155,000, which does not include the People's National Bank, just organized, or the Forsyth Savings Bank.

The moral and religious aspect of the community is unsurpassed by any other in the State, owing to the peculiarities of the Moravian and Quaker settlers of this section.

Of churches, there are fourteen: Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Moravian, Episcopalian, Protestant Methodist, Friends, and one Catholic in course of construction.

The educational advantages are superior to any town of its size in the State, having the oldest and most widely known female college in the South, that of Salem Female College, established in 1802, which has over three hundred students, from all parts of the United States. Special trains are run during certain seasons of the year, from Texas to Winston to accommodate the pupils. There is also one of the finest graded school systems in the State, with an enrollment of fourteen hundred pupils. Another building is to be constructed at once, regardless of cost, for a high-grade school. The Winston Graded School building cost $27,000.

The tobacco interest, the largest of all others, is rapidly increasing. This market is considered the largest in the world for fine chewing tobaccos. From October 1st, 1889, to March 29th, 1890, the sales in the warehouses amounted to the sum of one million three hundred and eighty thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars and eighty-seven cents, an average per month of one hundred and seventy-three thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars and ninety-eight cents. These figures are taken from the actual records. The amount of revenue paid the government in one single day, February 1st, 1890, amounted to the enormous sum of ten thousand two hundred and twenty-seven dollars. The sale of revenue stamps amounts to about ninety thousand dollars per month or one million dollars per annum.

There are four hotels, and arrangements have been made for building another to cost one hundred thousand dollars with all modern improvements and conveniences.

The press numbers seven publications—Twin-City Daily, Winston Sentinel, Winston Republican, People's Press, Piedmont Advertiser, The School Teacher and The Academician.

Of the several public improvements going on we mention the Electric Light and Motive Power Co., with a cash capital of 200,000 for lighting the town and to furnish the power for the electric street railway which is now being constructed.

Finding it too much to describe the many industrial and other enterprises in a single letter we give only the list, expecting to write them up more fully later on. There is a telephone exchange with one hundred subscribers; 33 plug tobacco factories with annual output of three million three hundred thousand dollars; fourteen leaf or prize warehouses, annual output of one million one hundred and fifty thousand dollars; four large sales warehouses, three sugar factories, three smoking tobacco factories; one cotton factory with an annual consumption of one million pounds; one wool factory with an annual consumption of 180,000 pounds; one hosiery mill, two steam flouring mills, capacity 30,000 pounds daily; three machine shops and iron works; three sash, door and blind factories; two box factories; two furniture factories; four wagon factories, two agricultural implement works, one fruit canning company, two broom factories, one basket factory, one fertilizer factory, one candy factory, one buggy factory, three potting and pipe works, one construction and improvement company, and a host of smaller industries.

Besides all this there is a regular organized Chamber of Commerce, three Building and Loan Associations, and four Real Estate Agencies.

The business interests of the place have grown far ahead of the public improvements. A marked change is noticeable in this respect, during the last year or so. The town has a splendid system of water works, paved streets and electric lights. Although there were one hundred and fifty six buildings erected last year, there is more demand for houses than can be supplied at present. The stores that have been built of late are very unique and costly, they will compare favorably with any in the larger cities of the Union. More anon.

FARMERS AT WHITE HEAT.

They Denounce the Supreme Court and Want a National Convention to Consider the Abolition of that Tribunal.—The Alliance Makes the Move.

[By United Press.]

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 2.—The indignation of the farmers of Minnesota has risen to white heat over the decision of the United States Supreme court on the now famous granger cases, in which the Minnesota railway commission was practically laid on the shelf. The executive committee of the State Farmers' Alliance, representing over 30,000 tillers of the soil, met here yesterday and passed a set of resolutions denouncing the Supreme court, and asking all the Farmers' Alliances in the country to join with them in a national convention looking to the abolition of the Supreme court.

Startling Changes Recommended by the Cleveland Presbytery Committee.

[By United Press.]

CLEVELAND, O., April 2.—The committee of the Cleveland Presbytery yesterday prepared a report on the revision of the Confession of Faith, recommending several radical and startling changes. The committee recommends the exclusion of the statement of "sovereign, eternal and unconditional reprobation of any of God's creatures," approves a clear expression of belief that none dying in infancy shall eternally perish; disclaims the certain damnation of all the heathen world as part of the faith; denies the elimination of the mention of Roman Catholics as necessarily idolatrous, and advocates the striking out of the association that the Pope of Rome is the anti-Christ.

Dave Gerner, who started the shooting, escaped but a number of negroes were arrested.

Voting in secrecy gave great satisfaction.

GOLDSBORO'S GROWTH.

A SKETCH OF ITS INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISES.

Some of Its Advantages Touching Upon Items of Personal and General Interest.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., April 2.—Situated on the great trunk line south, known as the Atlantic Coast Line, with four railroad outlets, and in the midst of one of the finest trucking sections of the whole South, Goldsboro's future prosperity goes without question.

The people are in a measure conservative; they do nothing spasmodically, but prefer a steady and sure growth. Capital seeking investment cannot find a more healthful climate and better people in the whole Eastern portion of the State.

Industrial Enterprises.

The Goldsboro Furniture Company is doing a large business. The furniture, in design and finish, equals that of any Northern-made goods. That made from sweetgum wood is exquisite in finish and beautiful in style. The furniture is being shipped in large quantities abroad, and finds a ready sale in the home market.

The Dewey Bros' machine works are building engines right along. The engines used in the water works here and the locomotive used by the Enterprise Lumber company of this place, were built by them. Experienced machinists pronounce the work done by them as superior to most work of this kind done in the South.

The Enterprise Lumber company is doing all it can do. The demand for the material turned out by them is great. The building boom in this section of the State keeps them busy.

The Goldsboro Lumber company, another of the live enterprises of the place, is receiving orders constantly. They have their hands full all the time. The lumber gotten out here has a reputation for good working qualities and makes the best of building material.

The rice mill, which has been running for some years, finds ready sale for all its goods. This industry has been very successful, and is one of the best managed institutions of its kind in the South.

The H. L. Grant Brick and Tile Works is among the most important industries in the State. Located here with facilities for shipping in all directions, and using the finest clay that can be had in the country, they have built up a business that is a credit to Goldsboro. The press bricks made by them are as good as any made North or elsewhere.

The Wayne County Agricultural Works, manufacturers of agricultural implements, are shipping goods to all sections of the South and West. The implements made by this firm are noted for durability and adaptations to the wants of Southern farmers.

In addition to the above there is an ice factory, supplying the best of ice crystal goods, to neighboring towns and the home supply, and an oil mill and fertilizer company, that have more orders for cotton seed fertilizers than they can fill.

Notes of Interest.

The place now boasts of another new hotel, the St. James. It is run on the American and European plan; furnished with Goldsboro manufactured furniture and is a desirable place to stop at as can be found in the State. Every thing is new and is located on Main street in the very centre of business; electric lights and water in every room.

The place has an active Building and Loan Association and a movement is on foot for the establishment of another. The city has lately put in electric lights and a splendid system of water works.

The Graded School here is considered by many able instructors to be the finest, without an exception, in the entire State.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been greatly benefited by the annual State convention held here a few weeks ago. The association here, in point of regular lecture course, is ahead of any other similar institution of its kind in the State.

Dr. Mary Moses, the Jewish Rabbi, who has had charge of the synagogue here for some years, has gone to California, to make that distant State his future home.

New enterprises and industries are being talked of daily. The city extends a cordial invitation to capital, and will welcome all who come to labor here in any capacity to add to the prosperity of the town.

Fire Tuesday Morning.

Since the above was received we see from the Argus that there was a fire in Goldsboro on Tuesday morning, and at one time it seemed that it would burn many buildings, but it was checked.

The Argus says that only wood buildings, scattered all around from the rear of Lamb's stables, on John street, which also had a "close call," to Fletcher & Kern's, on East Centre, and to R. C. Freeman, on Walnut streets, are gone—and it is better so. The only loss of any importance was the warehouse in the rear of Messrs. Fletcher & Kern's, in which Messrs. Royall & Borden were carrying on their mattress factory, and in which they had stored one hundred and fifty mattresses, in addition to a large stock of manufacturing material. Nothing daunted, however, they put their men to work in new quarters yesterday morning, and turned out their usual number of mattresses per day. There was no insurance on any of the property.

ROCKY MOUNT NEWS.

A Growing Town—The New Railroad—Agricultural Outlook, &c.

[Special Cor. to STATE CHRONICLE.]

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 1.—

Among the growing towns of the State, Rocky Mount exhibits as rapid a growth as any place of its size. It is decidedly the most thriving town along the line of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad. It is situated in what is known as the best agricultural station in North Carolina. There is in active operation here a cotton factory, iron works, two brick yards, two tobacco warehouses, three prize tobacco warehouses, one of the strongest stores, some of which would do credit to much larger places. Contracts have been let for building five brick stores—Mr. J. A. Taylor will erect three and Mr. J. W. Hines the other two.

The Hammond Hotel has lately changed hands; it is now under the management of Mr. W. C. Woodward, who proposes to keep an all-the-year house to be first-class in every respect.

The only present drawback to the place is the need of a good school, and the citizens will support a good one, provided the right teacher casts his lot with them.

The citizens are rejoicing over the near completion of the Norfolk & Carolina railroad, which will give them another through line to Norfolk. So far as railroads are concerned, the town has four railroad outlets, and will have the fifth in less than thirty days and will soon be in direct connection with Raleigh, when we trust the mails from the capital will be more regular.

The farmers in this section are bending every nerve and putting forward more energy than has been done for years. They are buying supplies cheaper and are paying cash for everything. More fertilizers are being bought than for many years, besides more home-made fertilizers being used. The late cold snap discouraged the truckers very much. They are put out about it but are plowing up the truck patches and putting in other crops. With a fair season, they expect to raise more this year than has been done in some years past.

[By United Press.]

ROANOKE, Va., April 2.—John H. Caddall, treasurer of Pulaski county, and president of the Pulaski National Bank, was foully murdered and robbed about five o'clock yesterday afternoon near his home. Spillen Foster and John Tallon, two young white men of this city, were arrested on a freight train at Salem last night, charged with the dastardly crime.

They left here yesterday morning for Pulaski and were seen near the place of the murder in the afternoon. Both are hard characters, Foster being an ex-convict. They were brought here this morning for safe keeping and are now behind the bars.

The Sheriff of Pulaski is expected tonight, and will probably identify the criminals.

In a conversation with a United Press reporter, they denied the charge, but acknowledged that they had been near the place of the murder. The greatest excitement prevails in this city and Pulaski, and it is evident that Judge Lynch will take possession of the case when they are returned. The Montana Election Case Discussed—Honors to the Memory of the Late Mr. Wilber—Bridge Bills and a Shop Bill in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—SENATE.—The Senate to-day began the discussion of the Montana election cases.

Mr. Edmunds, from the judiciary committee, reported back the anti-trust bill in the form of a substitute and gave notice that the matter would be taken up so soon as the election matter had been disposed of.

The conference report on the urgent deficiency bill was presented and agreed to. The House recedes from its disagreement to the Senate (as to irrigation surveys) with a proviso that no part of the amount shall be expended in sinking wells, or in the construction of irrigation works, and that the government shall not be committed to any plan of irrigation.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the Montana election cases, and the argument lasted during the remainder of the session.

Mr. Evans offered a resolution declaring that the Senate had heard with deep sensibility the announcement of the death of Hon. David Wilber, late a Representative from the state of New York, and concurring in the resolution of the House of Representatives for the appointment of a joint committee for attending the funeral.

The resolution was adopted, and Senators Hiseock, Squire and Kenna were appointed the committee on the part of the Senate, and as a further mark of respect the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House to-day passed a number of bills and discussed at length the bill for the admission of Idaho into the Union. A bill was passed for the erection of a shop at the National armory, Springfield, Mass., at a cost of $210,000.
